

Overview of Trade Finance - Virtual

Learn the essentials of trade finance including key trade and finance products and their features, export agencies, common problems and key issues facing the industry. This is a live virtual class session accessible from any internet enabled computer anywhere in the world. All class times are listed in EDT.

Available Session(s):

18-Nov-2008 -- 18-Nov-2008

USD $600

Virtual class session 2:00pm - 5:00pm

Tue

Instructor(s):[Patricia Sparacio;]

Targeted Audience

Anyone who must have an understanding of trade finance products.

Advance Preparation

No advance preparation required.

Prerequisites

A basic understanding of credit risk.

Learning Objectives

Students will be able to:

- Understand the Risks in International Trade Transactions
- Understand Trade Products Including Documentary Collections, Letters of Credit, Banker s Acceptances and Bank Undertakings
- Understand Basic Trade Terms, Documents and Regulations
- Understand the Bank s Role, Risks and Rewards in Trade Transactions

Follow-Up Courses

International Capital Markets

UCP600: New Rules for Letters of Credit - Online

Level: Basic

CPE Credits: 3

Instructional Method: Group-Live

Detailed Outline

Overview of Trade Finance

- The risks and opportunities of trade finance from the perspective of importer and exporter
- Letters of Credit
- Drafts
- Bills of Lading
- Operational Risk & Credit Risk
- Documents of Trade
- Multiple Bank L/Cs
- Confirmed Letter of Credit
- Documentary of Collections
- Bankers Acceptances
- Bank Undertakings

This is a live virtual class session accessible from any internet enabled computer anywhere in the world. All class times are listed in EDT.

For more information regarding administrative policies such as complaints and refunds, please contact our offices at 212-641-6616.